

TO PAINT SAFETY LINES ON STREETS

Zone in Centre Square Will Stop Parking of Machines Around Oval.

PARK CARS AT ANGLE

New Regulations Follow Serious Accidents. Will Enforce Law Regulating Parking Near Fire Plugs.

Following several recent accidents in the borough, where men were run down by automobiles and seriously injured, action on the proper marking of crossings and parking of machines in the town was taken at the regular meeting of Gettysburg Town Council, held Wednesday evening. At the suggestion of Mr. McDonnell, it was decided to have safety lines painted on the streets, marking the crossings in the central part of town and also through the Square. This action will have the effect of discouraging the practice of parking automobiles around the oval in Centre Square, which has long been the practice here, and a dangerous one. It was also decided at this meeting to have machines parked at a 45 degree angle on the first two blocks of Baltimore, York and Chambersburg streets and one block from the Square on Carlisle street, with the rear of the machine, against the curb. This makes access to the cars easier and discourages the practice of double parking.

K. K. Garrett, representing the Hanover Light Company, appeared before Council and asked permission to erect five poles in Race Horse alley between Franklin and Chambersburg streets, in order to carry a service line to Buford avenue, and then on the poles now controlled by that company to the plant of the Auburn Shale Brick Company. This permission was granted and the new poles will be located under the direction of the Highway committee.

J. B. Aumen, chief of the Gettysburg Fire company, asked council to purchase eighteen rubber coats and twelve pairs of rubber boots for the company, as their present supply was inadequate. Also that a sign be placed on each fire plug within a radius of two blocks of the Square, designated that parking within a distance of fifteen feet from the plug was not permitted. The fire police, who were recently sworn into service by the Burgess have been authorized to enforce this law. Dr. Huber moved, seconded by Mr. Toot, that the Property committee be instructed to purchase the coats, boots and signs and have the latter placed on the fire plugs in accordance with the request. This motion was passed.

John Warner asked that a gutter be placed in the street near his property, as the surface water from High street now passes across Washington street and over his land. The Highway committee was instructed to look into this matter.

Secretary Kitzmiller read a letter from R. A. Miller complaining about the porch erected in front of the residence of Mrs. Luther Slentz, which according to the letter, is covered with a roof having a wide cornice, which it was stated extended over the pavement a distance greater than (Continued on Second Page)

CARS CRASH ON FIELD

George Hann, Of Near Two Taverns, Figures In Second Smashup.

George Hann, of near Two Taverns, narrowly escaped serious injury Tuesday evening about 8 o'clock at the intersection of Meade avenue and the Taneytown road on the Battlefield, when the light automobile he was driving was upset and almost completely demolished in a crash with the car driven by Raymond Rebert, North Washington street. Hann, who was severely cut in an automobile accident on the Baltimore 'pike several months ago, was driving south on the Taneytown road when he ran into the rear of the car driven by Rebert, according to witnesses.

The impact threw the lighter car in the opposite direction to which it was travelling and turned it over on its top. Hann escaped injury, but his automobile was almost a total wreck. The machine driven by Rebert was only slightly damaged.

FANS WERE DISAPPOINTED

Through a misunderstanding of arrangements, fans, who expected a Ward League baseball game on the Playground diamond, Wednesday evening, were disappointed. According to the announcement of Rev. Harry Daniels, Second Ward and High School were to be the attraction, but only a few players from these teams were present. This evening, according to schedule, First and Second Wards will cross bats, if the weather permits.

DRIVER OF AUTO IS EXONERATED

Coroner's Jury Decides Sunday Fatality Was Unavoidable.

VAUGHN GIVES DETAILS

Ferris Leffler, Son of Dead Man, Also Called as Witness at Coroner's Inquest. Were Going For Water.

John K. Leffler, of Pine Grove, Schuylkill county, came to his death by an unavoidable accident, a coroner's jury decided, Wednesday afternoon, after visiting the spot where the fatal mishap occurred and learning the details of the incident from Roy C. Vaughn, an eyewitness.

The accident happened about two o'clock Sunday afternoon and Mr. Leffler died as the result of injuries and shock at 10:40 o'clock Tuesday evening in the Warner Hospital. He was 64 years old.

Men called by Coroner C. G. Crist for service on a jury to place responsibility for the accident, which cost Mr. Leffler his life, were Earl Deatrick, Paul Martin, Dorsey Dougherty, Winfield S. Horner, Samuel Robinson and Thomas Rosensteel.

Accompanied by Coroner Crist, District Attorney Raymond F. Topper and J. Donald Swope, Esq., who stated he represented the Leffler family, the coroner's jury was taken to Little Round Top where the details of the accident were explained to them.

Roy C. Vaughn, the first witness summoned, showed the jury how the fatality occurred. He walked in the road in about the same position taken by Mr. Leffler before being hit by the automobile and showed the jury-men how the aged man stepped directly in front of the oncoming machine of which Mr. Vaughn was a guide. The automobile was running between five and seven miles an hour, Vaughn explained, and added that the driver stopped almost instantly.

The exact spot where the accident happened was ninety feet from the road leading to Little Round Top and directly in front of the monument of the Ninth Pennsylvania Reserves.

When Mr. Vaughn was asked whether the driver of the car, on which he was a guide, sounded a (Continued on Fourth Page)

GRAND CHILD RETURNED

Child Surrendered By People In This County.

Betty Fackler Glatfelter, granddaughter of Dr. and Mrs. L. H. Fackler, York, for the possession of whom the physician last Monday instituted habeas corpus proceedings, is again in the Fackler home. She had been a member of the Fackler household since her birth almost four years ago, up until about a week ago.

Little Betty was returned to Dr. Fackler early Wednesday morning by Deputy Sheriff J. Charles Heiges, to whom she had been surrendered, by those who had been caring for her in Adams county. She was taken from her home in York by her father a week ago Tuesday.

Officers Tuesday night failed to serve a writ issued in the habeas corpus proceedings upon the father, G. Raymond Glatfelter, who disappeared when deputy sheriffs went to New Oxford for that purpose. While it was stated Glatfelter would appear in the sheriff's office and accept service on the writ, up until a late hour Wednesday afternoon he had not put in his appearance.

The petition in the proceedings was presented Monday to Judge N. Sargent Ross in chambers and a writ of habeas corpus awarded, returnable today.

MANY ATTEND PICNIC

Three Hundred People At Biglerville Community Affair.

The annual Biglerville community picnic held in Heiges' grove, near Arendtsville, Wednesday, was attended by three hundred persons. Business in the town was suspended for the day and most of the people spent the entire day in the grove, where the entertainment committee had arranged an interesting program of events for the occasion.

Chief attractions were two games of baseball, a game between the High School team and the Ex-High members, also a contest between the fat men and lean men. There was also a tug-of-war and other contests, which created much amusement. The children enjoyed the sliding boards and swings, which are part of the equipment of this popular picnic ground.

NEW CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Biglerville Business Men Have Formed Organization.

Biglerville, one of the county's most progressive towns, has again demonstrated its community spirit by the organization of a Chamber of Commerce. Knouse, vice presidents, and N. C. Thomas, secretary and treasurer.

Three Chamber of Commerce organizations exist in the county. Gettysburg's business men organized in 1919 New Oxford's Chamber is less than six months old.

NINE MORE ACRES ADDED TO RESORT

Ninety-Day Option Secured by Same Group Who Started Summer Colony.

TEN LOTS SOLD ALREADY

Electric Light Will be Furnished. Will Start Erecting Cottages Shortly. Laying Out Baseball Diamond.

A ninety-day option on nine additional acres of land along Marsh Creek near the site of Witherow's mill, was secured, Wednesday, from Robert Witherow, the owner, by the same group of men, who, last Thursday closed a deal for the purchase of twenty acres of land on the banks of that stream in Cumberland township, thereby assuring residents of Gettysburg a summer resort. Those interested in the recent purchase and the securing of the option were E. H. Markley, A. B. Plank, C. B. Dougherty, Frank Reaser and Eddie Plank, of Gettysburg, and H. E. Riddlemoser, of McKnightstown.

The land on which the option was procured adjoins the plot already purchased along Marsh Creek and extends along the stream to the Emmitsburg road, where, in course of time, the promoters of the new summer resort hope to erect a dancing pavilion.

On Wednesday, the twenty nine acres was surveyed preparatory to staking out lots. Each lot, according to the purchasers, is to have fifty feet frontage on Marsh Creek and a depth varying from 200 to 225 feet. Those interested in the proposition, however, have reserved land to a width of thirty feet along both banks of the stream, which will be open to the general public. This right, reserved by the promoters, will not affect the rights of the purchasers of lots.

According to latest reports, work on the demolition of the old wooden dam structure across Marsh Creek at the site of the former Witherow mill will start at once. Just as soon as the old dam has been removed construction on a new concrete breast across the stream at that point will be started. One promoter declared that work on the new dam would begin within fifteen or twenty days.

When the new dam has been completed, it is the hope of those interested, that the water will be backed up for at least a mile and a half from the breast. This will furnish water for boating, swimming and fishing during the summer months and a likely skating course each winter.

According to plan, the stream will (Continued on Fourth Page)

DRIVE MEN FROM SHOPS

Eighty Men Attack Round House And Capture 12 Workers.

(By Associated Press) Des Moines, Iowa, Aug. 3.—A police check today has accounted for 12 men kidnapped last night in a raid on the Chicago-Great Western roundhouse here. Three of the men, two whites and one negro, had been taken several miles out of town and stripped. Nine men were roughly handled and released in a woods.

Eighty men, armed with clubs, entered the railroad yards about 8:30 o'clock last night. Dividing into two parties, they stormed the roundhouse, driving out every workman and capturing twelve. Deputy sheriffs and United States Marshals, who ordered the men to throw down their clubs were not heeded.

Out of the approximately 50 men working, only a handful remain this morning.

WILL NOT EVADE OBLIGATION

No Suggestion Made To Alter Status of Debt.

(By Associated Press) London, Aug. 3.—That Great Britain has no intention of suggesting any alteration of her financial obligations to the United States was re-emphasized in the House of Commons today by the Chancellor of the Exchequer, in reviewing the British position on German reparations.

"I wish to make it clear beyond all question of misapprehension," declared the Chancellor, "that we recognize to the full our obligations to pay our debt to the United States and we do not mean in any shape or form to evade that obligation."

CIGAR FACTORY TO OPEN HERE

New Company Takes Over Strausbaugh Building, Carlisle Street.

One Gettysburg factory that has been closed for twenty months will begin operations within the next ten days, it became known today when machinery was placed in the building of E. F. Strausbaugh, Carlisle street, by representatives of the General Cigar Company. The firm, which expects to employ between 75 and 100 men and women, occupies the factory vacated by the Seidenburg Branch of the American Cigar Company. Five popular brands of cigars will be manufactured here.

At present the General Cigar Company is operating sixty factories in Pennsylvania and New Jersey. They expect to be operating the plant here at full capacity within the next month or six weeks.

E. W. Buckwalter, of Harrisburg, is in charge of installing the machinery and will be manager of the factory. The company's main offices are located at 119 West 40th street, New York City.

On February 25, 1920, the American Cigar Company opened its factory, known as the Seidenburg Branch. It employed 50 men and women at the start and within a short time had 80 workers on its payrolls. The plant continued operations until December when it closed, presumably until the following January. Business conditions, however, proved unfavorable and the factory has been closed ever since. Last June it was decided to abandon the plant and the machinery was removed.

FAIRFIELD PICNICS

Large Attendance at Annual Summer Sunday School Event.

Fairfield turned out en masse on Wednesday for the annual union picnic of the Lutheran and Reformed Church Sunday School held in Cool's Woods, a mile and a half south of Fairfield. The attendance was the largest in the history of the summer event. Four hundred and thirty five persons ate dinner in the woods and 525 were there for the evening meal. The dinner consisted of bean soup, while box lunches provided supper.

Races, games, swimming and a baseball match made up the afternoon entertainment. The baseball game between the married and the single men resulted in a 7-7 score. The game was called at the end of the fifth inning.

A number present came long distances. Among these were Mrs. C. B. Dyson, Los Angeles, California; Mrs. E. B. Merrell, Fort Worth, Texas; Riley Sheets, Tracy, Minnesota; Rev. W. K. Fleck, Camden, New Jersey, former pastor of the Fairfield Lutheran Church.

REED CONTINUES LEAD

Returns, Yet Incomplete, Give Him Majority Of 7,879.

(By Associated Press) St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 3.—Senator James A. Reed continued to maintain his lead in the Democratic Senatorial contest when belated returns from Tuesday's primaries began coming in early today. With 3,420 out of 3,848 precincts in the state reported, he had a lead of 7,879 over Breckenridge Long, former third assistant secretary of state in the Wilson cabinet.

If each of the 63 counties that have reported incomplete returns, show the same ratio of voting as the precincts already reported, Reed would win by approximately 3,000. The lighter the remaining vote is the better Reed's chances are.

Additional returns received this morning, show that R. R. Brewster, of Kansas City, endorsed by the regular organization, had increased his lead over William Sachs, of St. Louis, who ran on a wet platform, to nearly 11,000 for the Republican Senatorial nomination.

NO MOVE IS NOW CONTEMPLATED

No Immediate Steps Are Considered by Federal Government in Rail Strike Situation.

RECEIVERSHIP SUGGESTED

Government May Apply to Courts For Receivership of Such Roads as Are Unable to Execute Mail Contract.

(By Associated Press)

Washington, Aug. 3.—Indications continued to multiply today that the Federal government contemplated no immediate steps in the rail strike situation. A member of President Harding's cabinet declared, however, that as an abstract proposition "it might be imagined" that the government would apply to the courts for receivership of such railroads as were unable to execute their mail carrying contract.

The cabinet official emphasized that he was not saying that any receiverships were imminent and postoffice department officials said that generally the mails were being handled with only slight interruption and delay.

MEETING OF UNION HEADS

Shopmen Try To Draw Others Into Strike, Says One.

(By Associated Press)

Chicago, Aug. 3.—E. J. Mannion, of St. Louis, president of the railroad telegraphers' union, has sent letters to twelve heads of railroad unions, not on strike, suggesting a meeting to discuss the growing tendency of the striking shopmen to draw them into the strike. His letter pointed out that the members had many problems in relation to the strike in common and suggested a conference of the twelve grand chiefs and heads of the four brotherhoods "to consider the strike development and possible action."

WANT MINERS EVICTED

Eviction Suits Brought Against 219 Miners in Company Houses.

(By Associated Press)

Elkins, West Virginia, August 3.—Eviction suits against two hundred and nineteen miners have been filed by the West Virginia Coal and Coke Company in an effort to move the miners from the houses at the Norton and Harding plants, near here. The mines were closed one week before the strike was called last April 1 and have been idle since that time. The defendants claim that they have never been asked to return to work, but the Company officials claim that the men have refused to resume mining.

MEN RETURN TO WORK

Many Return to Duties on New York Central Lines.

(By Associated Press)

Syracuse, New York, August 3.—One hundred and thirty two maintenance of way men, including twenty five foremen returned to work at the shops of the New York Central railroad, breaking, railroad officials claimed, the outlaw strike of the past five days. There are about one hundred men still out on strike, but officials claimed that most of them will be back tomorrow.

LEGION MAN IS FAIR HEAD

Colonel Franklin D'Olier Chosen to Fill Position on Sequi-Centennial Board.

WILL ACCEPT THE TASK

Directors Believe He is Man Who Will Start Active Work And Pledge Their Full Support.

Philadelphia, August 3.—Colonel Franklin D'Olier, first national commander of the American Legion and a well-known business man, was unanimously elected president of the Sequi-Centennial Exhibition Association yesterday. He was selected for that office by the board of directors of the association upon the recommendation of the Steering Committee, which had received a telegram from Colonel D'Olier indicating that he would accept the position. Colonel D'Olier's energy and ability are appreciated highly by the members of the board, and it is believed that under his leadership rapid progress will be made in the Sequi-Centennial movement. "He will put behind the enterprise all the force necessary to a successful celebration in 1926," said the Steering Committee's report.

The members of the Steering Committee, whose work was to find a suitable candidate for the presidency, agreed last Tuesday that Colonel D'Olier was the best man available for the office; but there was some doubt that he would accept election, as he had previously declined to become a candidate. Yielding to the pleas of his supporters, however, he wired to the committee that he would accept the position if elected. The committee met yesterday afternoon in the Bellevue-Stratford to take action on the matter, with the result that a report recommending his election was submitted to the directors at a meeting held about 15 minutes later, at which Colonel D'Olier was elected without opposition.

Strongly Backed For The Place
The Steering Committee made up of Thomas Robbins, chairman; John F. Lewis, J. Hampton Barnes, John H. Mason, E. A. Van Valkenburg and Eugene C. Bonniwell, presented the following report:

The committee appointed at the last meeting to propose to this board a candidate for president of the association begs leave to report. It recommends the election of Colonel Franklin D'Olier and hereby places his name in nomination.

Colonel D'Olier has signified to the committee his willingness to assume this obligation in the public interest and for the welfare and good name of our city. The committee is gratified in having secured this acceptance. Colonel D'Olier's energy and ability, as shown in his successful career with the American Expeditionary Force, his talent for organization and leadership, which was recognized by his comrades when he was elected the first national commander of the American Legion, his wide circle of acquaintance among public men in this country and France, his gift of public exposition, his successful business career and the official honors bestowed on him here and abroad, are all evidence of his fitness for the post and of the distinction that he will bring to it. In the full vigor of manhood, he will put behind the enterprise all the force necessary to a successful celebration in 1926.

Elected Without Opposition.
The report of the Steering Committee was submitted by Chairman Robbins, after which John Hampton Barnes, who presided, called for a vote on Colonel D'Olier's election. There was no opposition, and Secretary Edward Robbins was called upon to cast the ballot electing the American Legion man.

SUES FOR LIFE INSURANCE

Ruby H. Russell, of Dillsburg, widow of William S. Russell, who was found dead in a park at Chicago, May 2, has instituted suit against the New York Life Insurance company for recovery of $2,000, the face value of a policy. While nothing is mentioned in the statement of claim, it is probably based on belief that Russell met death by foul play and was not a suicide as intimated.

The statement filed with the York county prothonotary sets forth simply that William S. Russell died on May 22, 1922. That the insurance company offered to pay the beneficiary of the policy the sum of $146.66, which presents the amount of premiums paid to it by the insured.

A wound caused by a revolver shot was said to have caused death, but further details were never made known.

COMPLETE COAL CONTROL PLANS

Immediate Operation of Machinery Arranged For by Hoover And Spencer.

Washington, Aug. 3.—Plans for the immediate operations of the Federal Coal Control Organization, involving distribution of fuel to the railroads, public utilities, the States and the New England and Great Lake sections, were completed yesterday at a conference of Secretary Hoover with Fuel Distributor Spencer and the various central committee members.

Indiana Takes Over Two Mines.
Indianapolis, Aug. 3.—Governor McCray yesterday took the first step in promised effort to provide coal for Indiana's public institutions and essential industries by sending 750 National Guardsmen into the coal fields in the southeastern part of the State. The Governor prepared for possible interference by issuing a proclamation of martial law in the district in which it is proposed to mine coal under protection of the troops.

The First and Second Battalions of the One Hundred and Fifty-first Infantry were called from their annual summer training period at Camp Knox, Ky., for duty in the coal fields. The troops entrained yesterday morning and reached their destination late in the day.

The proclamation of Governor McCray declared a state of martial law to exist in the towns of Staunton, Cloverland, Williamstown and Turner and Posey township, all in Clay county. Troops reached Staunton this afternoon and were greeted goodnaturedly by a crowd of striking miners.

Two Mines Taken Over.
Governor McCray announced that two strip mines situated near Staunton have been taken over and will be operated by the State.

The mines are property of the Rowland-Power Collieries Company and are under receivership in Federal court. It was pointed out that any attempt to interfere with operation of the mines will be an offense, not only against the State of Indiana, but also the United States Government.

The Governor issued a statement addressed to the miners of Indiana calling for volunteer workers to operate the mines seized by the State. He appealed to the miners to return to work in the State-operated mines under the old wage scale. It is understood, however, that sufficient men to operate the mines will be available in the event union miners will not return to work.

ONLY EMPLOY HELP NEEDED

Personnel of State Highway Department Changes With Conditions.

Assistant State Highway Commissioner George H. Biles said Wednesday employment of people by the State Highway Department was on a basis of the number needed for the work, and if any changes were made they were to make the employees adequate and nothing else. There have been various reports abroad about reductions.

"At no time," said he, "does the department employ more persons than are actually needed economically to administer its affairs. Since the beginning of this administration it has followed the policy of adjusting its organization to meet the demands made upon it. As the work increases the organization, of course, has to keep pace and when the construction and maintenance operations close down or the program is curtailed, as has been the case during the present season, a complete retrenchment is put into effect. In March of 1922, the records of the department show a decrease of 496 employees over August of 1921. This matter is controlled scientifically by a charting system. In the way of comparison, the total number of employees as of July 1, 1922, was 166 less than July 1, 1921. In 1921 the State Highway Department's largest force was in the month of August, when 1,500 persons were engaged in this work, as compared with August 1, of this year, when there were approximately 200 persons less shown on the roster of the department. The opening of the construction and repair season temporarily increases the department's forces, but as the work progresses, the organization is reduced. At the beginning of the present year the financial condition of the department occasioned a reorganization of its district offices. Three complete districts were abandoned and combined with others, and the entire assistant construction engineers' force transferred to district assignments."

FIRE CONSUMED HAY

Setting fire to a bumble bees' nest in a field near his home, in Tuesday, proved disastrous for Jacob Mummert, tenant on the H. W. Hoffnagle farm, near Kohlers. The wind fanned the flames and they spread throughout the field, consuming several loads of new-mown hay.

DOOR OPEN FOR NEGOTIATIONS

Railroad Executives Will Confer on Basis of Protection of Loyal Employees.

COAL MUST BE MOVED

Test Claims of Railroads to be Able to Maintain Transportation. Several Lines Resort to Embargoes.

Washington, Aug. 3.—Further Government action in the railroad strike was held in abeyance yesterday, though railroad executives who refused President Harding's suggestions for settlement Tuesday were understood to have apprised Administration agencies that the door was still open for negotiations.

If protection in seniority status acquired by shopmen who have continued to work in spite of the strike could be guaranteed, any basis of settlement the President might find fair would be favorably considered by the managements, it was said. Tentative negotiations during the day, it was added, had brought no immediate tangible results.

Railroad Text Coming
The President was said to be awaiting the text of the reply which union leaders at Chicago were drafting to his settlement proposals Secretary Hoover, who attended the session of the road executives at New York, saw Mr. Harding on his return yesterday, but said that no immediate governmental steps were to be expected.

Other Cabinet members who saw the President for discussion of strike matters indicated the feeling that claims of railroad managements as to their ability to maintain transportation would get a test during the next few days. These officials left the inference that if the strike demonstrated symptoms of dissolution as predicted by the carriers, the President might not move again.

Fuel Question Paramount
It was again emphasized, however, that the nation's necessity for at least a minimum coal supply had largely governed the President's action in the rail strike to date and would continue to do so. This was most important in the prospect it held out that coal-carrying roads of the district south of the Ohio river might draw particular Government attention, or even control, unless betterment of their transportation capacity is accomplished very soon.

These lines serve the larger non-union fields, which are the chief source of current coal supply for the northeast section of the United States. Three of them, the Louisville and Nashville, Norfolk and Western and Chesapeake and Ohio, have been forced, it was pointed out, to resort to embargoes against other than coal and the commodities listed for prior shipment by the recent emergency orders of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Coal production in the territory, though sharply curtailed by the shopmen's strike from July 1, has been increasing for the last 10 days, according to the railroad car loading figures.

MADE HOUSE TO HOUSE SEARCH

Enforcement Officer Caldwell Has Dog Owners Arrested.

Robert Caldwell, of Gettysburg, enforcement officer of the State Department of Agriculture and E. J. Wilt, a deputy, made a house to house canvass of Chambersburg on Tuesday, in search of unlicensed dogs. As a result of this campaign thirteen dog owners in that place were hailed before a justice of the peace. The informations were made by Mr. Caldwell and signed by Mr. Wilt as witness.

Four of the thirteen paid fine and costs amounting to $8, eight have notified the magistrate that they will pay and one claims that his dog is under the age limit—six months—for unlicensed dogs. The latter case will be adjusted by the enforcement officer in case the owner's contention proves correct.

Officer Caldwell and Deputy Wilt work together. Both go to a house and in case an unlicensed dog is found information is made at once. The canvass of Chambersburg and other sections of Franklin county will continue, according to statements of Officer Caldwell. The boroughs and towns will be worked and the rural districts scoured for unlicensed dogs.

ONE BILLION OVERSUBSCRIBED

Washington, Aug. 3.—Nearly a billion dollar over subscription to the Treasury's new issue of four and one-quarter per cent. short term notes is announced by Secretary Mellon. Subscriptions for the issue, which was for about $300,000,000 he stated, aggregated over $1,200,000,000, all of the Federal Reserve districts reporting over-subscriptions of their quotas.

SENATORS STIRRED BY BRITISH DEBT

Suggestion of General Cancellation Brings Show of Hostility.

Washington, Aug. 3.—Suggestion by the British Government in its note to various European nations that there be a general cancellation of the war debts met with a cold reception yesterday from Senate leaders—Democratic and Republican.

"We never will," was the emphatic statement made by Senator McCumber, Republican, North Dakota, chairman of the Finance Committee, which has charge of all fiscal policies so far as the Senate is concerned, and other Senators in private statements were for the most part equally hostile to the British suggestion. Especially antagonistic were Senators of the old "Irreconcilable" group, and Senator Hitchcock, of Nebraska, ranking Democrat of the Foreign Relations Committee and its former chairman, was quoted as saying that any such plan appeared to be without a possibility of American support.

"Our Affair," Says McCumber.
"The question of Great Britain cancelling her debts is one for herself," said Senator McCumber. "What she does with respect to her debtors is a matter for herself. Our policy toward ours is our own affair. We will never consent to cancellation of the war debt, Great Britain's or any other nation's, in my opinion."

"I have seen only the newspaper accounts on the British proposal," said Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, Senate Republican leader. "I am opposed to cancellation of war debts. I favor liberal terms of settlement, but cancellation, no."

Change Would Be Up To Congress
State Department officials again declined to comment on the British note, saying they wished before discussing it to study the text of the note which is being forwarded to Washington by the American Embassy at London. Officials of the executive branch of the Government generally were disposed to point out that Congress had prescribed conditions for the refunding of the debts owed the United States by European nations and that deviation from the course now being pursued was impossible without the sanction of Congress.

three feet and therefore was a violation of the borough ordinance. It is claimed that this improvement obstructs the view of neighbors. No action was taken.

The report of the Treasurer was read and approved. It shows a balance in the general fund of $3,826.83 and in the special fund of $2,450.12. Discussion followed concerning the height of some awnings which have been erected in front of places of business in town and Chief of Police Fugitt was instructed to have all awnings raised to a sufficient height, so as not to obstruct traffic.

The report of Burgess W. E. Olinger was read and accepted. It showed receipts during the month which totaled $156.00. BROPHY A BENEDICT warning, the former replied that he did not remember hearing the horn.

A romance of the baseball diamond culminated a few days ago at Berkeley Springs, West Virginia, when Miss Helen Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Brown, and Joseph Brophy, third baseman on the Martinsburg Blue Ridge League team, were united in matrimony by the Rev. W. A. McKeefry, of Martinsburg.

QUESTION STATUS OF PLAYERS

The directors of the Hanover Blue Ridge League club as yet have not ascertained whether Pitcher Frank Loftus is a "class man", as they are still awaiting an answer from a former town in which he played. For this reason the team left Wednesday morning without him.

The reason for Mr. Leffler's presence on the roadway at the time was explained to the jurors by Ferris Leffler, son of the dead man, who was the second witness called by Coroner Crist.

"My father and I were going to get a drink of water at a well which is located on the right hand side of the road, young Leffler declared, "and I was about 75 feet ahead of my father when I heard a crash behind me, and looking around quickly, I saw the car on top of my Dad."

Young Mr. Leffler then told the jurors that he was the first to reach the car and that he lifted his father up and placed him in his car and drove him to the Warner Hospital.

After viewing the body of the victim of the fatal accident, at the funeral parlors of H. B. Bender and Son, Baltimore street, the jury members announced their verdict which exonerates the driver of the Maryland car, whose name had not been learned in time for the coroner's inquest Wednesday. His license plates bore the numerals 105,103, according to those who took the figures for reference.

The annual picnic of the Farmers' Association will be held August 24, 25 and 26, in the grove midway between Abbottstown and East Berlin. It is planned to make the picnic bigger than ever this year. An effort will be made to have the farmers bring exhibits of fruit, grains, vegetables and other things. Poultry and live stock will also be exhibited. An opportunity will be given dealers in commodities to exhibit wares. A number of amusements will be provided. During the past week a well was dug in the grove.

Ever Ever Green

By FANNIE HURST

Farmers' wives at the close of a voiceless day have been known to turn stark mad. Siberia, where men learn to become enamored of death, is a land of strange silences. Where the desert is stillness men's bones lie bleaching. Wild dogs bay loudest in that soulless moment before the dawn, and as if they would rend to ribbons the mysterious veil of silence. But the prairie has no secrets; it is like an open hand, palm upward.

Across the great upturned palm of Illinois, dusk fell sadly over miles and miles of close-bitten prairie lands and rusty corn fields that met the gray horizon with the dull, easy joiner of a river meeting the sea. Alongside an isolated watering station the Interstate Accommodation slowed, shrieked on its rails, stopped.

Miss Lola Lalady protruded a shining head out of a coach window and sniffed to the evening. Her eyes were full of restless glances and hard as sunlight on bayonets.

"Listen, Al, to the stillness out there, will you? Ugh, it's so thick you can cut it."

Her companion on the red plush seat beside her unbound his long agile limbs and leaned across her slim figure and out into the moody evening and the plains sweeping away to the horizon.

"Looka them birds, will you, Lo—scouting south like an arrow shot out of a bow. Gee!"

He followed their course, his eyes level beneath level brows.

"If this is the Great Middle West, Al, that you been labeling God's country all along the circuit, give me a ninety-nine year lease on Satan Island or Bronx boulevard every time. Gee, riding five hours straight and not even an ant-hill to muss the scenery. Don't shove, Al. Don't shove!"

The peculiar quiescence of rapid motion suddenly arrested descended over the coach voices monotonous as the droning of bees rose languidly. The noise of travel that lay beneath the song of the rails sprang out suddenly; paper rattling, leather hand-bags that squeaked in the opening and closing, the ever mysterious creakings of woodwork, the engine coughing at even intervals. Miss Lalady's brilliant head rolled back against the red plush inert. She fanned her moist little face with a lacy frilled handkerchief.

"Whew! God's country he calls this!"

"Say, a little kid like you that's never been west of Trenton don't know enough about the map to find her own home town if it's got a pin stuck through it. Wait till you been doing coast to coast long as I have. If you think this is a tank circuit we're playing, wait till we get on the wrong side of Kansas City!"

"Say, they don't come no dinkier than the last four we played."

He leaned to her and placed a large muscular hand over hers. In the shadow of the overpowering shoulders her own slenderness was wispish.

"You're all wrong, Lo. There's little tanks in this part of the country, with flower beds set out around the station and Main street paved, and white frame houses set inside of white picket fences, and shady streets with trees meeting right over them—and well, I tell you there's tanks out here that makes Forty-second street look like a bad dream."

She crumpled up against the window sill, her chin cupped in her palm.

"Like the dump we played in last night, eh? Where the white frames was all shacks and the hotel up over the grocery store makes the Briggs house in Newark look like the Ritz."

"Higginsville is a rotten dump, Lo. You don't find it on any of the vaudeville circuits, but leave it to extravaganza every time not to overlook a dump. But take tonight's stand, though; there just ain't a prettier little town on the map than Adala, Lo."

She squinted her little face into an amazing grimace.

"Adala!"

"Yeh! I know a young fellow, Ben Collins, started there an errand boy in a box-factory and now owns half the town; two box factories of his own, the opera house, half of Main street and nearly every cottage on the hill. Say, I'd brush the Broadway lint off my coat tomorrow to settle down in a pretty little tank like that."

"It's a great little town, Lo. I've been there three times and lived once for two weeks right with Ben Collins in his own swell house. He'd gimme his shirt if I asked him, that's what he thinks of me. Only met him on a train once, too. He's seen some of my wood carvings and he'd gimme a job right in one of his box factories doing the high class handwork any day in the week I wanted. That's the kind of friends we are."

She pressed her finger tips to her lips, then blew at them lightly as if she would waft him a rose petal.

"Rave on, Al. Rave on!"

He leaned to her with an entire flattening of tone. "You're the only thing in the world that I can rave about, Lo; you and your tantalizing ways. Ever since I ran away from an orphan asylum in Utica to join a show, I've had a picture of a little girl like you hung on my heart. I can't see this or any other country, hon, without you the biggest part of the scenery. You're the only thing I ever had time to rave about in my life, Lo."

She threw him a smile that was full of quirks.

"Me and the meadows! The meadows you're always piping about. Look at 'em out there! Listen to the grass growing!"

be stocked with bass and Susquehanna salmon, a fish much on the order of pike, just as soon as the new dam is completed.

Indications that the spot will be popular as a summer colony, are seen in the fact that already ten lots have been sold along the stream near the old mill site. Purchasers of land declare they will start erecting cottages shortly. Many expect to spend part of this summer in newly-erected bungalows there.

That cottagers will be supplied with electric light and that they will not lack a supply of drinking water was stated Wednesday by one of those interested, who said that an electric power and light plant will be installed and a well bored this summer.

Aside from the aquatic sports which will be furnished at the resort, work on the construction of a baseball diamond was begun Wednesday where cottagers may indulge in the national pastime.

HIGH GRADE FERTILIZER

Difference in Cost Made Up By Quality Secured.

Action recently taken by experimental station officials and representatives of the fertilizer trade in conference at Wilmington, Delaware, will interest every Adams County farmer who is concerned about the fertilizer price lists. For many years, experimental station workers and extension specialists at the Pennsylvania State College have urged the farmers to purchase only high grade fertilizers in view of the large amount of money wasted annually in the expenditure for low-grade mixtures containing varying amounts of fillers. At the Wilmington conference, the fertilizer men gave their approval to the teaching of these specialists, in promoting the use of high-grade fertilizer and fewer formulae. In the matter of a small number of formulae alone, it is obvious that the saving in manufacturing costs will effect an appreciable difference in the price the farmer has to pay.

Not all farmers, however, have learned to appreciate the value of using high-grade fertilizers. They will insist on buying a 2-8-2, for instance, in preference to a 3-12-3, because the price of the former is lower. The formula for both is identical. In the lower grade, the purchaser simply pays for a greater amount of filler which increases the bulk of the mixture but does not add to its fertilizing properties. Two tons of the high grade fertilizer in this case will give the same results as three tons of the lower grade. When it is considered that the cost of mixing, bagging, handling, and transporting a ton of fertilizer is often as much as $14.00 in excess of the actual cost of the raw

Says His Prescription Has Powerful Influence Over Rheumatism

Mr. James H. Allen, of Rochester, N. Y., suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery, which he called Allenatu, to others who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. He has therefore instructed Peoples Drug Store and druggists everywhere to dispense Allenatu with the understanding that if the first pint bottle does not show the way to complete recovery he will gladly return your money without comment.

THREE GENERATIONS MARRY

Weddings All Took Place In Past Month.

New York, Aug. 3.—With the marriage of Muriel Lorillard Ronalds Conkling to Baron Louis Van Reigersberg in Holy Trinity Church, London, it was revealed that three generations of one family have been married in a single month.

The mother of Baron Van Reigersberg's bride became Mrs. William H. Holden at a secret wedding July 1, while her grandmother became Mrs. Stillman F. Kneeland in Danbury, Connecticut July 29. The new baroness' new stepfather-in-law is a New York lawyer interested in the stage and motion pictures. Her new stepgrandfather-in-law is General Kneeland, 77, a lawyer, well known in New York.

Details of the marriage of her mother could not be learned. The bride has been the widow of Alfred Ronalds Conkling, former assemblyman and nephew of the famous Roscoe Conkling. He committed suicide in 1917.

Do People Want Clothing to Advance?

The answer is emphatically NO.

However, with the proposed tariff amendment which is now being urged to be placed upon the net content of wool per pound will greatly increase the value of a suit or overcoat.

The estimated increase amounts to not less than FOUR DOLLARS nor more than SEVEN DOLLARS.

This proposed tariff is not a benefit to the individual farmer but rather a protection to a few large wool producers.

WE DO NOT WANT PRICES TO ADVANCE.

We, coupled with our manufacturers, are appealing directly to the government for the veto of such an amendment. But, more than that, we have protected our customers by means of another device which we shall disclose to you in another issue.

Yours for lower prices,

O. H. Lestz

Oh! Jim—just like a NEW car!

You're right. I've been using Mobo Auto Soap for several months and it's given the car a new-like appearance. It is also protecting the varnish and preventing cracks and blisters. If I'd kept on using those ordinary free alkali soaps, I'd have had to repaint it long ago.

Mobo Soap is not only a varnish preservative—but a high-class soap which quickly cleanses running gear, body or top. Being a 100% pure vegetable-oil soap, Mobo preserves the finish on the car, keeping it elastic and preventing it from becoming dry, which causes cracking and blistering.

Try Mobo. Get a can today from the nearest dealer named below.

1 lb. 40c., 3 lbs. $1.00, 5 lbs. $1.50.
Also in 10, 25 and 50 lb. cans and in Barrels.
